at 0400 on Tuesday 16 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy and mild today, but brighter and breezier tomorrow.

Today:
A cloudy and, in places, misty, locally perhaps even foggy start to the day with the odd spot of drizzle. However, slowly improving with skies brightening from the west and perhaps a few glimmers of sunshine. Mild with light winds. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
A few showery outbreaks of rain are possible during this evening. However, clearing skies later in the night and turning chilly, but the breeze will keep it frost free. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Wednesday:
Feeling a little less mild on Wednesday, due to a slightly stronger breeze. However, generally staying dry and bright, with the best of the sunshine during the morning. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Becoming cloudier and milder again to end the week, but staying largely dry. Some bright or sunny intervals are likely with the odd fog patch where skies remain clearer overnight.
